LOCAL 4-H GROUPS MAKE FINE SHOWING

Evansville and Porter Members Win Majority of Awards at County Judging Meet

Receiving the lion's share of awards, members of the Evansville and Porter 4-H clubs made an unusually fine showing at the annual home economics judging contest held Friday in Janesville.

In the food judging division Maxine Moore and Ethelyn Green of the Evansville club were placed in the blue ribbon group. Maxine scored 767 points out of a possible 800 and Ethelyn 760. Julianne Byrne of the Porter club placed in the red ribbon group with 755 points.

In the clothing judging, Julianne Byrne and Evelyn Tullis placed in the blue ribbon group with 483 and 480 points out of a possible 500. Ethelyn Green won 463 points in the white ribbon group and Lois Mae Nelson of the Porter club an equal number.

Lois Nelson and Arlene Allen of the Porter and Evansville clubs, were named red ribboners in the canning group with scores of 755 and 751 out of 800. Lois Klusmeyer won in the white ribbon group with 722 points.

Members of the Evansville club competing in the various divisions were the Misses Maxine Moore, Ethelyn Green, Alice Peach, Betty Mason, Ruth Reese, Beatrice Richards, Lois Klusmeyer, Arlene and Mildred Allen, and Doris, Edyth, and Evelyn Tullis.

Porter contestants were Lois Mae Nelson, Julianne Byrne, Janet Knudson, Dorothy Kelm, Helen Julseth, and Esther Kersten.

Local 4-H Club Leads In County Fair Awards

Members of the Evansville 4-H club returned from the Rock county fair in Janesville last week with the lion's share of awards, and several are continuing their exhibiting projects this week at the Wisconsin State fair in West Allis.

Leading the procession and placing in the blue ribbon group, the local club had one of the largest units in the parade which took place last Thursday afternoon.

EVANSVILLE WOMAN FETED HERE SUNDAY ON 89TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Daniel Ringhand, one of Evansville's oldest and most respected citizens, was guest of honor Sunday evening at a surprise supper given in her home at 38 West Church street in celebration of her eighty-ninth birthday.

The supper guests were Mrs. Minnie Leeder and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kliefoth, Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller and daughter, Lois, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Miller and daughter, Karen, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ruff, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Miller and son, Emmett, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Miller and son, Donald, Footville; and Miss Pearl Ringhand and Frank Ringhand, Evansville.

Mrs. Ringhand, formerly Miss Dorothy Krahn, was born Aug. 17, 1851 in Germany and was married to Daniel Ringhand at a ceremony performed there July 19, 1870. Accompanied by her husband and parents, she came to America May 1, 1885 settling with her family on a farm four miles south of Evansville at Magnolia corners.

Mr. and Mrs. Ringhand later farmed for several years in the locality of Brooklyn retiring and moving to Evansville Feb. 2, 1910. Mr. Ringhand died here April 24, 1928, and four sons were also lost in death, Herman, Otto, Charles, and Ernest Ringhand.

Mrs. Ringhand, a member of the Evangelical church, has five daughters and two living sons; namely, Miss Pearl A. Ringhand, at home; Mrs. Minnie Leeder, Janesville; Mrs. H. C. Mil-

Evansville's display in the spectacle included three attractively decorated floats, one representing the 4-H pledge to the United States, the second depicting Evansville's 4-H cargo of health, and the third showing the accomplishments of the club's sheep project.

On the patriotic float rode John Brunsell Jr., as Uncle Sam; Arlene Allen, Goddess of Liberty; and Dale and Rodney Leeder, Carol Peach, and Emma Hunt representing 4-H club members.

Depicting the cargo of health which float was designed by L. F. Hubbard of the crops project and Rollo Brunsell of the garden project, were exhibits of products grown in Union township.

Under the supervision of Maurice Reese, members of the sheep club decorated their float with prize ribbons won with the lambs exhibited on the vehicle.

Included in Evansville's parade display were the girls of the foods, canning, and clothing clubs, and the boys of the handicraft, swine, and calf clubs who marched in a body displaying their home-made products and leading their prize winning animals.

Evansville also placed in the blue ribbon class with its attractive educational booth which represented "The Ark of Health" and showed farm products in their relation to human food needs.

The booth, which attracted considerable attention throughout the four days of the exposition, was designed by Mrs. Orlin Holm assisted by Miss Inis Miller and Rollo Brunsell.

Two Evansville girls were awarded free trips to the state fair. They were Miss Ethelyn Green who earned the distinction of being Rock county's healthiest senior girl and second highest scoring foods judge of the county,

New York, to photograph different phases of 4-H work, will be in this locality next Tuesday evening to attend the regular meeting of the club, and Wednesday to take pictures of rural groups in the vicinity.

A pig and calf club meeting will be held at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Harold Abey, at which time the group will be instructed in calf judging by Morris Jensen and pig judging by Charles Maas, club leaders.

After taking pictures at the Abey home, Mr. Eisendrath will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Disch where the sheep group will convene at 10 a.m. with L. F. Hubbard and Mr. Disch giving the judging instruction. A visit will then be made to the Harold Robinson home to inspect baby beef.

At 1:30 p.m. Mr. Eisendrath will take photographs at the health clinic in the city hall and will then go to the home economics room in the school building to meet with the food and nutrition, canning and clothing groups.

Foods and nutrition demonstration will be presented by JoAnn and Donna Green, who will make muffins. The canning club contest will include three classes of canned foods, meats, vegetables and fruit. The clothing club will exhibit garments made by the members.

The regular meeting of the Evansville 4-H club scheduled for tomorrow, Friday, evening has been postponed until 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the city hall auditorium to accommodate David B. Eisendrath, Jr., Milwaukee, who will be in Rock county next week and will be here Tuesday evening to photograph different phases of 4-H work.

Mr. Eisendrath is associated with the Office of War Information and will take pictures and secure stories for the Victory magazine published in New York City and sent to foreign countries. He will be accompanied here by W. McNeel, head of the state 4-H department, who recommended Rock county as an appropriate location for the taking of the pictures. The work of the local club was selected as typical of the county's 4-H accomplishments.

John Kennedy is chairman of arrangements for the evening's meeting with Miss Lois Klusmeyer in charge of the educational program. A round table discussion featuring the highlights of the recent leaders college camp at Williams Bay, will be presented by the local delegates including Harold Abey, Harry Patterson, Ruth Brunsell, Kathleen Kennedy and Lois Klusmeyer.

Mae Fox, Porter, winner of the Rock county 4-H farm safety contest, will give her winning address. Games will be in charge of Robert Kleinsmith and Lyle Stall. Refreshments served by Dorothy Disch, Kathryn Franklin, Joanne Ehredt and Harriet Clark, will close the evening's activities.

The livestock meetings will be in charge of Harold Abey, Lyle Stall and Robert Kleinsmith and the Misses Lois Klusmeyer and Alice Peach, all of whom are junior 4-H club leaders, will direct the home economics sessions.

The local groups were chosen for the pictures on the merits of their past accomplishments.

The publications of the Victory magazine are not distributed in the United States but are sent to the foreign countries with the expectation that the copies will be read by youths in the far lands and that the stories and pictures will be a help to them in forming their post war plans.

The annual 4-H club picnic held last Sunday in the city parks, was attended by 130 members and leaders and their families.

Harold Abey Named State Champ 4-H Boy

Evansville Youth Will Compete In Holstein Contest For National Honors

Harold Abey received the following letter recently from the Holstein-Friesian association of America of Brattlebore, Vt.: "We are very happy to inform you that you have been selected as the Wisconsin State champion 4-H Holstein calf club boy by the Holstein-Friesian association of America for 1946.

"As in other years we will select a National champion 4-H Holstein calf club boy and girl. We are enclosing a report form for you to fill out and return to us within ten days so that we may make a comparison of your record with the records of other state champions." The letter was signed by Glen M. Householder, director, extension service.

Harold, who has been president of the Evansville 4H club the past two years, has been active in club work for several years and has taken many county and state prizes on his fair entries. He was recently named a member of the local club advisory committee. He has served as a junior leader and project leader for the past few years. Harold was awarded recognition in four departments including swine, calf, junior leadership for boys and crops.

Evansville Member Is Named 4-H Queen

Miss Carol Brunsell Is Given
County Honor At Annual Picnic Saturday

Approximately 400 Rock county 4-H club members took advantage of Saturday's perfect weather for their annual county-wide picnic at Riverside park. Highlight of the affair was the naming of Carol Brunsell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brunsell, route 1, Evansville, as county 4-H queen. She will be presented along with members of her court, at coronation ceremonies at the fair grounds Aug. 11.

Miss Brunsell, a member of the Porter club, has been active in 4-H for eight years. She has a drawer full of blue ribbons as proof of her success in raising and showing champion dairy animals. Last year she was chosen "outstanding member in Wisconsin" in home grounds beautification. She is leader of a calf project, president of her club and president of the county 4-H junior council. In May she received a $500 scholarship from the Baker Manufacturing Co., Evansville, on the basis of her academic record and extra curricular accomplishments.

Calf Club Tour Is Planned For Sunday

Members And Parents of Group
Asked To Assemble At Abey
Home At 9 A. M.

Leaders and members of the Evansville 4-H calf club are this week completing plans for a farm tour next Sunday to start at 9 a.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abey and continue throughout the morning, visiting all of the homes where there are calves to go to the fair. There will be judges outside of the local club to award prizes.

As the group visits a farm the calf owner will exhibit his animal just as he plans to show him at the fair. It is hoped that the tour will prove a benefit to all exhibitors for as the boys and girls watch each other's showmanship, points will be brought out that will help everyone.

The caravan will return to the Abey farm at noon where a picnic dinner will be served, for which those attending are requested to provide their table service, sandwiches, sweetened lemon juice for lemonade and an item of food to share.

Prizes will be given for the best fitted calves and best showmanship calves. The project leaders are Dr. E. W. Krueger, Morris Jensen, Helmar Severson and Harold Abey. The 4-H fair at Janesville will open Monday, Aug. 23. All members and their parents are urged to participate in the tour.

List Activities Of Evansville 4-H Club

Group Will Not Meet Friday Evening Aug. 20; Other Plans Made

Due to the fact that Evansville 4-H club members will be busy preparing exhibits for the annual fair to be held in Janesville August 23, 24, 25, and 26, there will be no regular meeting Friday night, Aug. 20.

All local boys who will be exhibiting livestock or poultry at the fair and desire to stay on the fair grounds are requested to apply to R. T. Glassco, Rock county agent, for a bunk in the boy's dormitory.

The Foods and Nutrition and Foods Preservation groups will meet at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the home of Patricia Ehredt at which time a canning demonstration will be given by Janice Abey and a foods demonstration will be presented by Ardis Templeton and Joyce Ringhand.

Instructions on preparing foods exhibits for the fair will be given by Catherine Franklin and Mildred Franklin will instruct in canning. The refreshment committee for the evening will be Patricia Ehredt, Nancy Jones, Phyllis Schrader and Lilas Dunbar.
