

PORTER.

Mr. Thomas Carle, who has been in Minnesota for some time, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. E. S. Hogue for two weeks past.

No school at the Wilder after New Years, until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennie, of Kingsboro, N. Y. are visiting a sister, Mrs. H. S. Helms.

Why did the sleighing go off just as we were ready to improve it?

January 2, 1885, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Mr. C. S. Preston, of Cooksville, was in town Wednesday, with a load of brooms, of his own make. This office naturally laid in a supply, because they were cheap and good.

January 16, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville, Wisconsin

T. > all st. ght. S. fon- ood	Sewell's church while pastor of that people, some years ago, —There will be a box sociable in the Church at Cooksville, February 3d for the benefit of the Library. The ladies will bring tasty boxes well filled with eatables which boxes will be sold at auction at the highest bidder. Everybody is invited to a social time. By Com. —The Relief committee	es in st T. to pr ac st In
---	--	---

January 30, 1885, p. 3, col. 2, Evansville Review, Evansville, Wisconsin

COOKSVILLE.

FEB. 9th, 1885.

We have had no mail here since Saturday, and it looks rather dubious now when we shall have. It brings to mind the days gone by, when we did not have a mail only once a week.

There is to be a dramatic entertainment Friday evening at the church. Most of our young people are engaged in it.

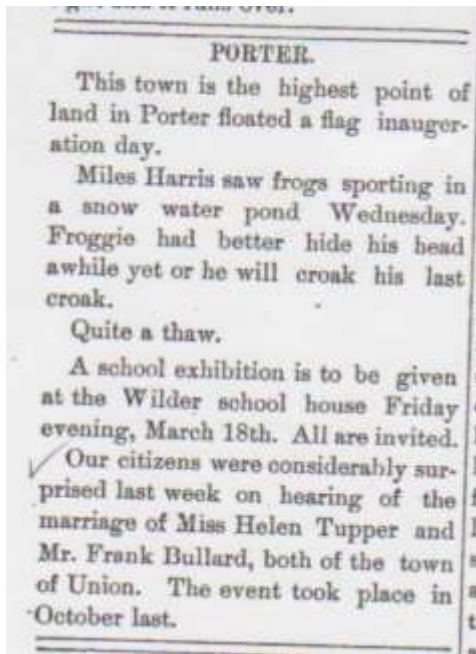

Tobacco is all stripped and mostly carried to market, and well-filled purses are the result.

Thursday morning, and no mail yet. Thermometer 26 below zero this morning. That is rather discouraging for believers in Candlemas day and early spring.

Mr. Sturdevant is quite unwell this winter, rheumatism is troubling him more than usual.

February 17, 1885, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 7,

Evansville, Wisconsin

March 6, 1885, p. 2, col. 1, Evansville Review, Evansville,

Wisconsin

Hon. J. T. Dow, and wife, old time residents of Cooksville, were very welcome callers upon friends in this place and Cooksville last week. Mr. Dow is engaged in the banking business in Dakota, but his family are too much attached to the old Badger state to leave it and make a new home and acquaintances in a new country, therefore will remain near us in the city of Madison.

May 5, 1885, Enterprise, p. 1, col. 6, Evansville, Wisconsin

Revs. Jenk L. Jones and J. Vilas Blake will hold a series of meetings at Cooksville, commencing Saturday next and continuing over Sunday.

July 24, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 4, Evansville, Wisconsin

COOKSVILLE.

Miss Brain, of Center, will teach our school, this winter. It commenced Monday.

Miss Irine Wells, of Independence, Iowa, is visiting at her father's, Mr. W. H. Wells.

Miss Ella Morgan is at Milwaukee, visiting a brother's family.

Mr. G. E. Newman has gone to Madison, to attend the University.

Tobacco is all shedded, and mostly without the touch of frost. Farmers feel pleased.

Mr. Van Vleck took his horse potatoe planter both to the State and County fairs.

Mr. C. H. Woodbury is getting in his new fall goods.

Mr. Chas. Miller did not make a purchase of the Spaulding farm, near Janesville, as was reported.

SEMINARY.

September 25, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 4,

Evansville, Wisconsin

—A little unceremoneous gathering of the friends of Mrs. H. B. Dow was held at the residence of B. S. Hoxie Sunday afternoon, to say "good bye" to Mrs. Dow, daughter Kittie and Master Cornie, previous to their departure for their home in Little Rock, Tuesday mornig. There were a brother and wife, C. H. Woodbury of Cooksville; R. F. Woodbury and wife of this place, and other friends who dropped in for the same purpose.

Mr. Dow has spent her summers at her northern home for the years she has lived south, and it affords her a pleasant relief from the ills of the hot, season, and gives her a zest for the pleasures of her home at her return. Regrets and congratulations mingled freely with her departnre Tuesday morning.

October 2, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

—Mr. Thos. Morgan, of Cooksville, has been putting up a tobacco shed for Mr. J. K. P. Porter, of that place which is 28 feet wide by 238 feet long. It is divided into 17 bents, each 14x17 feet. It is probably the longest complete tobacco shed in the country. Mr. Porter is the man who drew at one time, last fall, $13,220 for tobacco raised on his farm.

October 9, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville, Wisconsin

COOKSVILLE.

There will be a New England supper at the I. O. G. T. rooms next Saturday evening. All are invited to the entertainment.

Rev. Mr. Finn will hold service here next Sunday afternoon.

The "Clip as you go", festival was a very pleasant gathering. We were sorry there were not more out to enjoy the fun.

Miss Lizzie Richardson, of Janesville, has been the guest of her friend Mrs. Robertson. She returned home Saturday.

Mr. F. W. Seaver, has had another ill turn, but is some better now.

Mrs. Love and Mrs. Savage, visited friends in Madison last week.

Mr. Sturdevant still continues quite feeble. He is now confined to the house.

The cold storm, has reached us just as the Weather Prophet predicted it would.

The familiar face of Chester Miller is again seen in our midst. He has just returned from a visit in Dakota.

Mr. Rice is training his horse in Fulton this week. He is to trot on Van Etta's track next Saturday. There is quite an excitement here. All the men say Bonny must not be beat.

October 31, 1885, Enterprise, Evansville, ville.

—The notice from Cooksville of the preaching of Rev. Mr. Crooker on the 9th (Monday) did not reach us on time for last week's issue and it is too late for this. That's why. All notices from that source will be duly attended to if they reach us in season.

—We met Mrs. Champney, of Cooksville, on the street Tuesday. She was almost our first acquaintance when we settled in that place almost forty years ago. She is a widow now and lives with an only son, having lost her husband and another son some years ago.

nir
tal
ad
As su
nie
M
the cu
M
hi ab ly
fr
er

November 13, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 1, col. 2,

Evansville, Wisconsin

what source it will.

COOKSVILLE.

A social class for the benefit of Unity Society will be held in the Masonic hall on Friday evening, Dec. 4th. Good music in attendance, and lunch counters on either hand. Everybody cordially invited.

Rev. J. H. Crooker, of Madison, will speak in the church Sunday evening, Dec. 13. Mr. Crooker is a fine speaker. Be sure and come and hear him.

T
r ors
w-a &c.,
you.
em
in S en
tion
—
be d
he-1
-ick
serv
a-g

December 4, 1885, Evansville Review, p. 3, col. 3, Evansville,

Wisconsin