

Evansville persons proficient in the old Dutch art of ice skating will be glad to know that the Lions club has appropriated $50 for the building of a rink on the tennis courts at the corner of South Second and Fair streets. The land has been donated by A. M. Van Wormer. The city has agreed to furnish the light and water.

The rink will be kept free from snow by the boy scouts in order that good skating may be assured at all times. The tract will be flooded within the next week depending upon weather conditions.

EVANSVILLE LIONS CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS MONDAY

R. J. Antes was elected president to succeed L. B. Cummings at the weekly dinner and meeting of the Evansville Lions club held Monday night in the Hotel Central. Other officers were named as follows:

Lester Bullard, first vice president; Dr. J. W. Ames, second vice president; Dr. E. E. Dennison, third vice president; Veryle Courtier, secretary; Harry Roderick, treasurer; Fred Hansen, Lion tamer; Harry Loomis, tail twister; and Phil D. Pearsall and Albert Winn, directors for two years.

The club was entertained at dinner Tuesday night by the Boy Scouts at their camp at Lake Kegonsa. The evening's entertainment included scout inspection, drills, and boat riding.

The Lions picnic will be held next Tuesday in Riverside park, Janesville. The committee in charge is composed of A. C. Holmes, chairman; Harry Roderick, and Dave Baird.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS ✓ ENTERTAIN O. E. S

A group of local boy scouts under the direction of Scoutmaster Arthur Devine presented a most interesting program at the regular meeting of the Eastern Star held Monday night in the Masonic temple. Jimmy Dea Lovejoy read the requirements of tenderfoot, second class, and first class scouts after which a first aid bandaging demonstration was given. The program was concluded with a poem read by Jimmy Lovejoy.

Scouts participating were Harold Robinson, Edwin Devine, Wilbur Patterson, Kieth Williams, Robert Richardson, Alvin Bone, Jimmy Lovejoy, Herbert Durner Jr., and Donald Thompson. The program will be repeated at the Wyler School for Boys next Tuesday evening.

The local troop of Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Scout Master Arthur Devine, returned last Thursday evening from a four-days' camping period at the Devine summer home, Lake Kegonsa. That the 39 boys who attended camp this year were well fed is shown by the provision report on which is listed 92 pounds of meat, 28 pounds of butter, 70 loaves of bread, 108 quarts of milk, three and one-half bushels of potatoes, 44 packages of cereal, three pounds of cocoa, and various other items all of which were consumed in four days.

Divided into four patrols, each member of the troop was assigned to certain tasks. Some were placed on K. P. duty while others were policing the grounds. Thursday afternoon was spent in motor boating. Several tests were passed on first aid bandaging during the camping period and two merits were passed on boating. Fourteen tests were passed on first class swimming.

One of the feature events was a scout dance given on Wednesday night in the lake pavillion to which the Girl Scouts were invited as guests. About 120 were in attendance. The trouop returned Sunday without any accidents, reporting ideal weather conditions.

Too much credit cannot be given Scout Master and Mrs. Devine for efforts in providing an ideal summer camp for the scouts. But few troops, if any, are fortunate enough to have the advantages of a private summer home for camping purposes. Thanks is also extended to A. J. Amundson, lake storekeeper, who, as in the past, treated the boys to ice cream—and plenty of it, and to the many other public spirited citizens and parents who contributed freely and furnished transportation.

A Boy Scout rally and program including two addresses and the presentation of badges will be presented at 7:30 tonight in Leonard park in honor of Edwin Devine and Harold Robinson who have passed all necessary tests and earned the distinction of becoming Eagle scouts, the highest rank in scouting.

Two Addresses

The addresses will be given by Dr. J. W. Ames, president of the local Lions club and Izaak Walton league, and the Rev. O. W. "Outdoor" Smith, Oconomowoc, former local pastor and scoutmaster. The speakers will be followed on the program by the presentation of the two Eagle badges, six five-year veteran badges, and two second class badges.

At the close of the program the scouts will march in a body to Antes Velvet Greens where they will participate in a game of miniature golf and view the 300-pound bear now in captivity there.

Too much credit cannot be given to Arthur Devine for his earnest efforts and interest in promoting and leading the scout troop. He has had complete charge of local scouting for the past six years and prior to that served as assistant to the Rev. O. W. Smith. He has received from national headquarters a ten-year service pin for scouting.

J. R. "Doc" Stott showed qualifications of a real fisherman before the fishing season opened when he pulled out a bass weighing more than four pounds. It was weighed by M. L. In that the Izaak Walton league has been untiring in its efforts to replenish local lakes and streams with fish, residents of Evansville and vicinity are urged to co-operate in throwing back all under-sized fish and in obeying all conservation laws.

Practically all of the stores here will be closed all day Saturday, July 4. They will be opened Friday evening, July 3, for the holiday trade.

Stating that though the organization known as the Boy Scouts did not complete its final organization and obtain its charter from congress until 1910 and that the work it has done in creating a national spirit and a higher standard of citizenship, has been of great value to America, S. K. Lipman, president of the Indian Trails Council of Janesville, in an address before the local Lions club here Monday evening, gave some interesting facts concerning the growth of that order.

Mr. Lipman stated that in the struggle to bring America back to normalcy, men of the four-square attitude, inspired by years of Boy Scout training, were needed as leaders and masters of men.

To show how much the influence of Boy Scout training was leavening the nation through its leaders, the speaker stated that through the efforts of this organization,, one citizen out of every four is a Scout-trained man. The organization now has a quarter of a million adult leaders, and it may be safely concluded from these facts that the influence of the organization cannot help being felt toward bettering the social and economic conditions of the present time.

Speaking of Scout influence in education, the speaker explained that

Boy Scout Honor To Conve

The most important and extensive scouting event in the history of the Evansville boy scout troupe will take place here at 7:30 tonight when the court of honor of the Indian Trails council convenes in the high school gymnasium.

With a diversified and interesting program including the presentation of scout awards, one-act play, band selections, and an address by the Rev. D. Q. Grabill, Fort Atkinson the evening's festivities promise to be of a unique and entertaining nature.

The Rev. Mr. Grabill, former pastor of the local Congregational church, will discuss the importance of scouting to the American youth and its influence on the building of good American citizens. Enlivening the program will be selections by the local high school band appearing under the direction of Russell L. Moberley and a one-act play presented by a Madison scout troop.

The city sending the largest delegation to the meet will be awarded the Hoard attendance prize which was won by the Evansville scouts at honor courts held in Fort Atkinson and Janesville. Admission to the program tonight will be by ticket only and for this reason all those planning to attend have been requested to secure tickets from Arthur Devine or a member of the scout committee composed of Dr. J. W. Ames, P. D. Pearsall, and the Rev. Grant V. Clark.

Second and first class advancement awards, merit badges, star life, and eagle scout awards, and eagle palms will be awarded tonight as follows:

Evansville Boy Scout Erect Cabin

The Evansville Boy Scout troop has completed the erection of a cabin located in what is known as "Death Valley" two miles northeast of the city near the O. H. Perry farm.

Built of tin and old lumber donated by the city and secured from the old roof which was blown off from the fair grounds grand stand in a freak wind storm here last July, the cabin is equipped with a stove and six bunks. It is ten feet wide by 16 feet long and was built in its entirety by Evansville scouts.

That the cabin will undoubtedly be in constant use by the scouts is shown by the fact that two different scout groups are using it during their Christmas vacation period. It will be used for the most part for overnight hilding trips, according to George Greenway, assistant scoutmaster.

Located in the heart of a large grove on the Charles Blackman farm, the cabin will provide an excellent place for scouts to practice the outdoor instruction they are now being given. The building is in charge of Robert Gleason, a five year scout veteran.

50 SCOUTS ENJOY PROGRAM FRIDAY

A group of approximately 50 Evansville Boy Scouts attended a scout program and luncheon here Friday night in the city hall. The evening's program included addresses by P. D. Pearsall and Dr. J. W. Ames, members of the scout committee, and P. A. Finstad, high school baseball coach, and novelty stunts staged by each of the four scout patrols.

The ice cream served at the close of the evening was donated by the Evansville Ice and Ice Cream company and the cakes by several scout mothers. The program, particularly the refreshments, was greatly enjoyed by all those in attendance.

Presentations Made at Meeting Of Indian Trails Council in Janesville Tuesday

Second class awards were presented to ten Evansville Boy Scouts, merit badges to five, and star scout awards to two at the meeting of the Indian Trails council held Tuesday night in the Janesville high school auditorium.

The merit badges were presented by Phil D. Pearsall, this city, vice president of the Indian Trails council who also spoke on "The Troop Committee and its Responsibilities" at the fifth and final indoor session of the scout leaders' training course held in the Janesville vocational school Monday evening.

Evansville scouts receiving second class awards were Richard Eager, John McKenna, Edward Jessesky, Arthur Phillips, Phillip Patterson, Wilbur Luchsinger, Robert Brunsell

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD CAMP FIRE MEETING

Annual Event Will be Staged
In City Park Tonight; Plans
Laid for Big Dance

The Evansville Boy Scout troop will hold its annual outdoor camp fire meeting in the city park tonight when registration cards for the ensuing year will be distributed to 48 boys, 43 of whom are re-registering.

The evening's program will include story telling conducted by Herbert von Haden, P. A. Finstad, and Edward Johnson of the high school faculty and instrumental selections, songs, and assembly singing led by John and Kenneth Wall and Bob Allen.

The Evansville scouts have completed plans for a benefit dance to be given in the Magee hall here next Thursday evening with the Cardinal Music Masters furnishing the music. The advance ticket sale opened this week with the admission set at 50 cents per couple.

With a diversified dance program of both old time and modern music the event should be a treat for both old and young and judging from the progress already made in the sale of tickets indications are that a record crowd will be on hand.

article of food. The boys will sleep on straw ticks in tents which are now being secured, and will be closely guarded at all times by efficient leaders to eliminate the danger of accidents or other misfortunes which might mar the vacation period.

Prominent Adult Leaders

The water front activities will be in charge of Gordon Adee, Janesville, who comes to the troop highly recommended by the scout executive and Red Cross. The mess hall and kitchen will be under the supervision of William Garston, also of Janesville. Mr. Garston, who has had considerable experience in cooking for boys, was in charge of the council camp cooking at Camp Rotamer last year.

Among the high lights of the week's activities will be a morning bird hike conducted by F. S. Brandenburg, Madison, an authority on birds and bird life who has given frequent lectures on the subject at the recent cold waves, and which have been unable to secure food due to the snow-blanketed fields.

The special scout service scheduled for last Sunday morning at the Baptist church was postponed due to weather conditions until next Sunday when an appropriate scout sermon will be delivered by the Rev. L.L. M. Kitzmiller, pastor, supplemented with choir music.

Meeting at the city hall at 10:30 a.m., the scouts will march in a body to the church accompanied by their scoutmaster and troop committee composed of Dr. J. W. Ames, the Rev. Grant V. Clark, R. J. Antes, and P. D. Pearsall.

The high light of the week's celebration was a joint banquet and program of the Lions club and scouts in Frank's cafe here Monday night. Although the speaker, Art Eckstrand, Madison, executive of the Four Lakes council, was unable to be present, the evening was enjoyably spent in assembly singing.

The scout anniversary was observed in the city public schools here Tuesday when P. A. Finstad, high school mathematics instructor, addressed the scouts during the activity period in the gymnasium.

Free Movie Tonight

The scouts and their leaders have been invited to be guests tonight at the Magee theatre where "Riffaff" featuring Jean Harlow is being shown. The troop will meet in the city hall at 7:00 p.m. and proceed in a body from there to the theatre.

The valentines party, which was to be held in the school gymnasium Friday night as the concluding celebration event, has been indefinitely postponed. The party, to which all students of the city schools will be invited, will probably be held the latter part of the month.

Local Scouts Attend The Jefferson Fair

Several local Boy Scouts attended scout camp at the Jefferson fair Saturday, Saturday and Sunday. Those from Evansville attending were Ted Conway, Bill Brunzell, Bob Brunzell and scoutmaster George Green. Thirty six scouts from Evansville, Janesville, Lake Mills, Waterford, Fort Atkinson, and Jefferson attended the camp.

In addition to maintaining a model camp for visitors to inspect, the scouts gave demonstration in rope climbing, rope tying and first aid. They maintained a guide and messenger service and a lost and found department.

The first regular Scout meeting for the fall season will be held in the city hall Friday at 7 p.m.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD NATIONAL JAMBOREE

Scouts and Scout Leaders in all parts of the United States are now planning their participation in the National Scout Jamboree to be held in Washington, D. C., from June 30 to July 9, 1937. The Jamboree will replace the one scheduled for last summer which was cancelled because of infantile paralysis that developed near the nation's capital.

Each of the 544 local councils administering the Boy Scout program in the United States will be given opportunities to recruit one or more troops as its official delegation. Each troop will have 32 scouts, a senior patrol leader and three adult leaders.

The jamboree will be financed by the scouts and leaders themselves, each paying his registration fee to meet the costs of the 480 acre encampment which will be a city in it-

Evansville Boy Scouts To Have Two Exhibits

The boys of Scout Troop No. 1 Evansville sponsored by the Lion's Club will participate next week in a Merit Badge Exposition to be held at Janesville on Friday and Saturday, May 14th and 15th in the Vocational School auditorium. The boys under the leadership of G. V. Greenway, scoutmaster of the troop, are preparing to demonstrate Woodwork and Woodcarving merit badge work and The Antes Press is acting as sponsor for them, helping to outline the exhibit and fit out the booth.

Merit Badge work is an advanced stage of Scouting in which a certain degree of proficiency in the particular subject chosen must be reached through a required course of study laid down by the National Scout headquarters and done under the tutelage of some adult of the community who is skilled in that work. The name "Merit Badge," is derived from the fact that, in addition to a certificate given when the final tests are passed, the boy is also given a badge.

Twenty-one badges are necessary for the Eagle rank, the highest degree of Scouting, and Scout leaders say that the completion of these twenty one Merit Badge subjects is fully equivalent to one year of a first class university education.

The exposition in which the boys of Troop 1 Evansville, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Greenway are participating, will consist of thirty booths, prepared by the twenty-two Scout Troops of the Council, showing exhibits of the work done, the chosen subject and usually with Scouts in uniform taking part in such Merit Badge work.

This is the first of such expositions ever given in this Council and is being worked out on a very ambitious scale. It is expected that several

PLANTED IN PARK

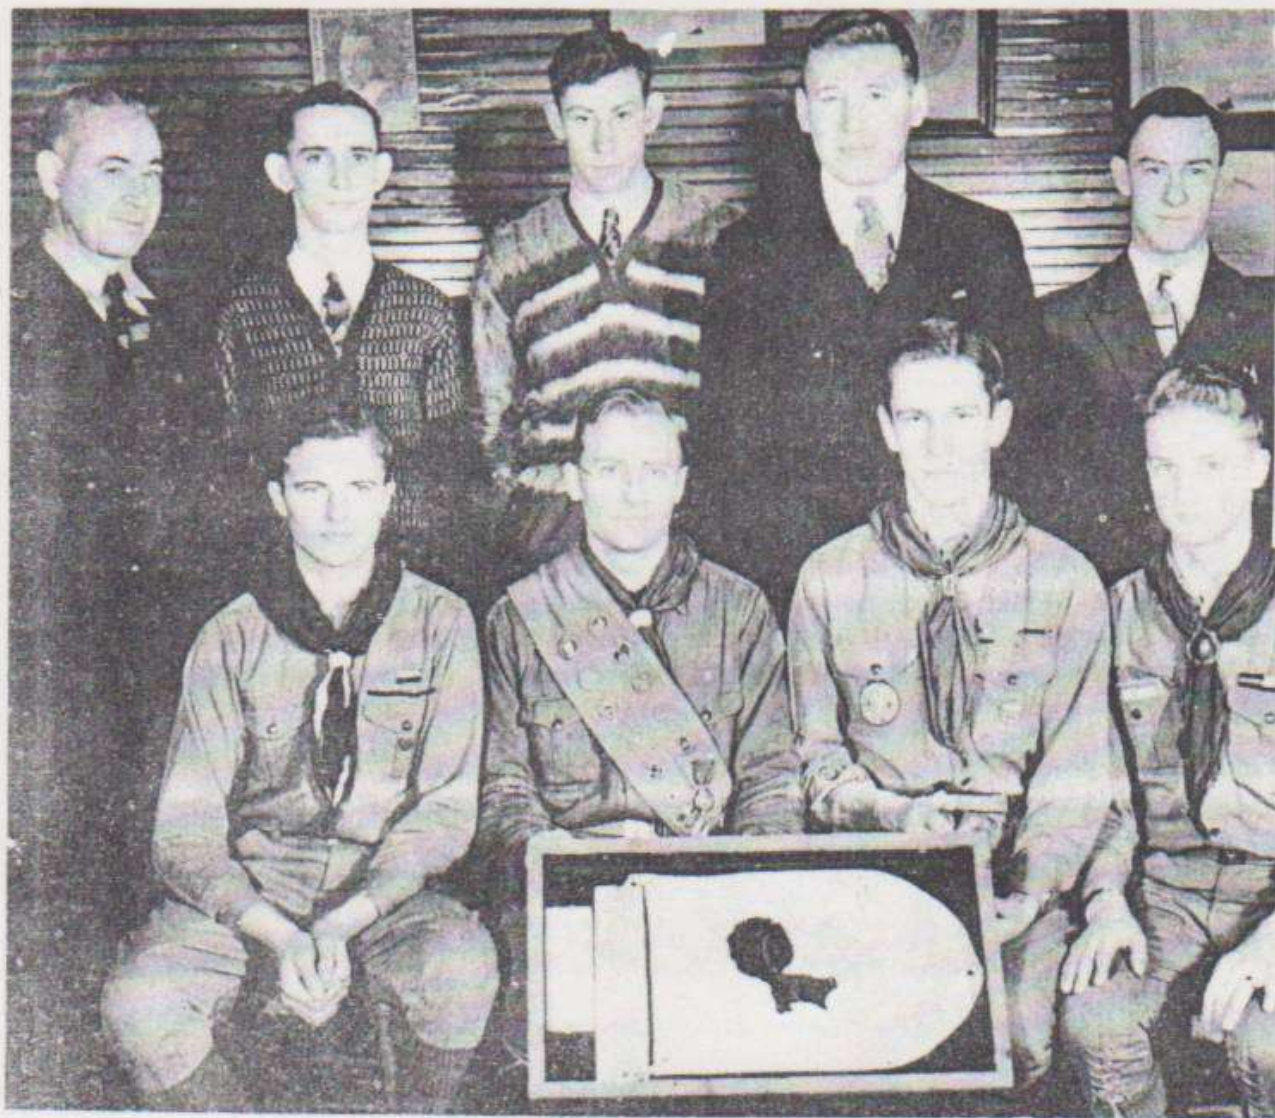

Trees Donated by Local Legion Auxiliary Set Out Here by Evansville Scouts

A group of 15 Boy Scouts under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Greenway has completed the planting of 300 small white pine trees which were contributed by the American Legion auxiliary through an arrangement with the Wisconsin Conservation Commission.

The trees have been planted near the lake shore in Leota park. They were grown in state owned nurseries and should add materially to the present beauty of the park.

The local Legion auxiliary has joined with other auxiliary units in planting a forest of memory pine trees in the northern part of the state and in dedicating the forest to those boys in khaki who marched away to the World war.

APPEAL BEING MADE BY BOY SCOUTS FOR DISCARDED UNIFORMS

The Evansville Boy Scouts under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Greenway are this week launching a campaign for a 100 per cent uniformed troop in appealing for used uniforms or separate pieces from residents of the city who have discarded scout regalia in their possession.

"We have from 50 to 65 boys in scouting here and only about ten per cent of them in uniform," said Scoutmaster Greenway in commenting on the situation. "Some of the boys can afford to pay a little toward a suit though others are financially unable to make any payment. Hence we are asking the friends of scouting to help make some of our scouts happy by donating old uniforms which will never be worn again and which perhaps are now hidden away in the bottom of an old trunk or in some remote corner of the attic," he explained.

"In that we are striving to make our troop a 100 per cent uniformed unit, we are seeking the help of every Evansville resident and will be glad to receive a pair of pants, a hat, a shirt, kneckerchief, or pair of stockings or any other scout equipment to be turned over to some deserving boy."

October 27, 1938, Evansville

The Evansville Boy Scout troop under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Greenway rounded out its year's program with a postponed holiday party held here Friday night in the high school gymnasium which was the scene of much hilarity throughout the evening.

The festivities opened with an investiture service conducted by Scoutmaster Greenway and a group of 12 scouts in which ceremony seven boys were initiated into the troop. They were Bob Graves, Warren Thomas, Bill Gabriel, Wallace Johnson, Charles Hazlett, Merlin Reese, and Bob Jorgensen.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to patrol contests in relay races and other events winners of which were awarded attractive prizes. Ray Sherman's patrol, "The Trail Blazers" scored the most points of the evening and each member received a complimentary ticket to the Leota theatre.

The evening closed with the serving of popcorn and apples after which each scout received a glider plane as a Christmas gift from Scoutmaster Greenway. The gymnasium then took on an atmosphere of a United Air Lines landing field.

EVANSVILLE SCOUTS MAKE FINE SHOWING AT COURT OF HONOR

Surpassing all other troops in the Indian Trails Council in membership gain during the last seven weeks of 1938, the Evansville Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Greenway, were awarded a first aid kit at the Central District court of honor held Tuesday night in Edgerton.

The kit was a gift from the Bell Telephone company and was awarded in a membership contest during which the Evansville troop gained a total of 15 new members.

The court was attended by 15 Evansville scouts and four adults. The local troop received about 30 merit badges and honors for participation in scout activities.

Evansville scouts have been invited to install a troop in Brooklyn next Tuesday night and will have charge of the ceremonies in that village. They are celebrating the twenty-ninth anniversary of the national scout organization with nearly a full week of events opening here next Tuesday.

SCOUTS PAY DEARLY FOR BRIEF STOLEN RECREATION PERIOD

One of the highlights and most amusing incidents occurring at the Evansville Boy Scout camp at Long lake last week, according to Scoutmaster George Greenway, was the escape of three scouts who without permission left camp to spend an evening in the village of Lone Rock and who paid dearly for about ten minutes of stolen recreation.

Following a marshmallow roast on Tuesday night, Tommy Green, Judd Pearsall, and Bill Gabriel decided to go to town and in making the necessary preparations for their absence propped their bed clothing to make it appear as though they had retired.

Upon Scoutmaster Greenway's return from town where he had purchased supplies for the following day, he made the rounds of inspection to make sure all the boys had retired. Finding the tent which was occupied by the three boys in unusually good order and not hearing the usual camp commotion, he proceeded to investigate and discovered that their beds were empty.

He immediately dashed to town in his car and on arriving at the village found the three culprits drinking pop. They had been in town for only ten minutes.

The punishment meted out to them was the peeling of a half bushel of potatoes, a T. W. duty, and the digging of a large hole, four feet wide, seven feet long, and three feet deep. After the boys had completed the excavation they asked what they were to do next. The reply from Scoutmaster Greenway was to shovel the dirt back in.

Boy Scout Troop Back From Lone Lake Camp

Anxiously and enthusiastically awaiting another outing next year, the Evansville Boy Scout troop under the leadership of Scoutmaster George Greenway returned Sunday afternoon from a week's camping period at Lone lake, located 90 miles northwest of Evansville near Lone Rock, which was the scene of considerable activity and much merriment during the past seven days.

METHODIST GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Fred Luchsinger is Again Chosen President at Monthly Meeting Last Week

Mrs. Fred Luchsinger was reelected president of the Methodist Ladies' Aid society at its monthly meeting and general coffee held last week in the church parlors. Other officers were named as follows:

Mrs. H. A. Schliem, first vice president; Mrs. B. G. Hart, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Hubbard, secretary; and Mrs. Roy Sarow, treasurer.

The new officers will assume their duties when the society resumes its activities in September.

PHEASANT CHICKS BEING RAISED HERE

Eighty per cent of the troop members or 41 out of 60 attended camp this year comprising one of the largest aggregations to take advantage of the annual outing in the past several years.

Sleeping in tents and on straw ticks, the boys enjoyed genuine camp life and before their return learned the essentials of laying out, maintaining, and tearing down a regular scout camp.

Resembling a tented city, the camp layout included kitchen, mess, supply, and officers' tents together with 15 smaller dormitory tents each of which was large enough to accommodate four boys. The tents were pitched in a straight line before which was the traditional camp fire.

The week's program, according to Scoutmaster Greenway, included kitenball games between chosen teams, volleyball encounters, and almost continuous play of badminton which game was introduced for the first time last year. Other sports were water polo, horseshoe pitching, and the usual daily swimming and boating.

Tests were passed in first aid, swimming, cooking, and tender foot requirements. Feature tours of the week were trips to the village, Indian mounds, and to the government airport. The boys were also given an opportunity to attend a free movie show in town on Saturday night.

With Bert Powers ably serving as camp cook, the boys returned home well nourished. The breakfast menus included fruit, flapjacks, cereals, and milk with the noon lunch comprising cold meat sandwiches and pork and beans. The evening dinners included roast beef, stews, escalloped ham, potatoes, and other delicacies.

EAGLE AWARDS TO BE BESTOWED ON 3 LOCAL SCOUTS

Receiving 21 merit badges, 12 of which were for passing required tests, three Evansville boy scouts will be presented with Eagle awards, the highest rank in scouting, at the court of honor to be held at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the Edgerton high school. It was announced this morning by Scoutmaster George Greenway.

Those to be honored are Bill Brunsell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Brunsell; George Breckenridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Breckenridge; and Jack Krull, son of Mrs. Rachael Krull. Their mothers will also be awarded Eagle scout pins.

The court of honor was originally slated to be held in Evansville but due to the fact that the new high school gymnasium here is not completed it was necessary to change the location.

In that there will be an attendance contest next Thursday night, Scoutmaster Greenway and the scouts are urging Evansville citizens to be present. The troop having the largest delegation present according to its size will receive the traveling Hoard plaque which is now held by Afton.
